Dear Anthony

COMMERCE COMMISSION DRAFT REPORT ON WHETHER MOBILE TERMINATION SHOULD BECOME A DESIGNATED OR SPECIFIED SERVICE

I belatedly became aware of the above Commerce Commission draft report and am concerned that it has potentially adverse implications for other infrastructure providers such as airports.

I realise that the closing date for submissions was 16 November 2004 and understand that an industry conference on the subject is planned for 23-25 February 2005.

Auckland International Airport Limited (AIAL) commissioned the National Economic Research Associates (NERA) to review the draft report on AIAL's behalf. I enclose a copy of the NERA report; to be read as AIAL's submission on the Commerce Commission draft proposal.

Despite the late submission, given the wider significance of this potential action by the Commerce Commission we would be grateful if our views could still be considered as part of the consultation process. AIAL will be happy to represent these views at the February conference if required.

Yours sincerely

Tony Gollin
