2 Interpretation

2.1 References to clauses or sections are references to clauses or sections in the Mobile Co-location Access Terms unless expressly provided otherwise.

3.2 The Mobile Co-location Access Terms apply in addition to the Mobile Co-location General Terms. If there is any conflict between the Mobile Co-location Access Terms and the Mobile Co-location General Terms, the Mobile Co-location General Terms will prevail.

Deleted: 10

- 13.1.1 the Access Seeker will promptly allow the Access Provider to take over the Access Seeker Space; and
- 13.1.2 the Access Seeker will, within 20 Working Days of the date the Mobile Co-location Service is terminated or the Mobile Co-location Terms come to an end, at the Access Seeker's cost and to the Access Provider's satisfaction:
  - (a) remove the Access Seeker Equipment from the Relevant Facilities;

  - (c) leave the Relevant Facilities in good clean order, repair and condition; and
  - (d) reinstate the affected parts of the Relevant Facilities as near as reasonably possible to their condition as at the first day the Access Seeker gained access to the Relevant Facilities under the Mobile Co-location Terms, fair wear and tear excepted,

13.2 If the Access Seeker has not removed the Access Seeker Equipment from the Relevant Facilities within 40 Working Days from the date the Mobile Co-location Service is terminated or the Mobile Co-location Terms come to an end, the Access Provider will be entitled to treat the Access Seeker Equipment as its own and may retain or dispose of all or any part of it as the Access Provider sees fit.

13.3 The Access Seeker will reimburse the Access Provider for any reasonable cost the Access Provider incurs in removing and disposing of all or any part of the Access Seeker Equipment the Access Seeker leaves behind, including the cost of making good any damage resulting from that removal. ## Queuing policy

The queuing policy that will apply when the Access Seeker makes an Application to the Access Provider for the Mobile Co-location Service is set out in the Mobile Co-location Operations Manual. This policy:

- conforms with the standard access principles, and is subject to the limits on the standard access principles, in Part 1 of Schedule 1 of the Act;
- provides for Access Seekers to be advised of their position in the queue;
- allows Access Seekers to determine the relative priority of Applications they may submit simultaneously;
- addresses the conditions under which a request to co-locate lapses;
- determines the basis on which priority is decided; and
- states how it will apply to the Access Provider's own proposals to use its Relevant Facilities.

Mast revision / extension

This section 10 only applies in circumstances where the revision or extension of a Mast is determined to be required to accommodate the Access Seeker's requirements for provision of the Mobile Co-location Service at any Relevant Facilities. The provisions of the Mobile Co-location Operations Manual set out the circumstances where the revision or extension of a Mast is determined to be required.

Property rights

Where the Access Seeker is to revise or extend a Mast:

- the revised or extended Mast will be owned by the Access Provider; and
- the Access Seeker Equipment will remain the property of the Access Seeker.

Rights and obligations

Unless the Access Seeker and the Access Provider otherwise agree:

- the Access Seeker is responsible for designing and undertaking all the work necessary for the revision or extension of the Mast (Necessary Work) including obtaining any necessary consents or permits in accordance with clause 6.1.8, and the Access Seeker is responsible for ensuring that temporary sites are established where required by the Access Provider to ensure that any interruption to the services that the Access Provider provides to its Customers and End Users is to the extent reasonably practicable, avoided, or, if unavoidable, minimised; and

- the Access Provider must promptly provide all cooperation that the Access Seeker reasonably requires in undertaking the Necessary Work; and

- the Access Seeker must bear the costs of designing and constructing the revised or extended Mast, including all the costs of obtaining appropriate statutory, regulatory or other consents, any costs associated with the provision of temporary sites, and all the Necessary Work and all things required by these Mobile Co-location Access Terms.

In carrying out the Necessary Work, the Access Seeker must take all reasonable steps to ensure that all such work is carried out in accordance with the Project

Plan (as referred to in clause 10.6 below), and must notify the Access Provider of any delays which it anticipates as soon as practicable after becoming aware that such delays will occur.

Project Plan

Once it has been determined under the Mobile Co-location Operations Manual that the Mast will be revised or extended, the Access Seeker must submit to the Access Provider a Full Site Application relating to the Access Seeker Equipment it proposes to install on the revised or extended Mast, including the following:

all relevant technical and design specifications, dimensions, load factors and radio communications characteristics of the Access Seeker Equipment; and the Access Provider's structural standards and standard Mast design.

The Access Provider must confirm to the Access Seeker whether it approves the Full Site Application in accordance with clause 14.4 of the Mobile Co-location Operations Manual.

Once the Access Seeker has received the Final Site Approval, as part of the formulation of the Project Plan in accordance with section 18 of the Mobile Co-location Operations Manual, the Access Seeker and the Access Provider must agree on assigned places on the revised or extended Mast and/or Relevant Facilities for each of the Access Seeker and the Access Provider to locate its own equipment (and the equipment of any other Access Seeker or third party using the Relevant Facilities) and a timetable for the installation of equipment. However, in no circumstances shall the Access Provider's existing Access Provider Equipment, or any equipment which is the subject of the Access Provider's current and reasonable forecast requirements for capacity, be placed in a location or position which, in the Access Provider's reasonable opinion, is any less favourable than the location or position of such equipment prior to the revision or extension of the Mast. In addition, the Project Plan must be prepared by a suitably qualified and experienced engineer.

For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent that there is any space on the revised or extended Mast in excess of the space required to accommodate the Access Seeker Equipment, such space shall be at the unrestricted disposal of the Access Provider and shall not be Access Seeker Space.

Implementation of the Project Plan

Upon receipt by the Access Seeker of the Approval to Build, the Access Seeker may commence construction in accordance with the Project Plan.

Unless the Access Seeker and the Access Provider otherwise agree, each of the Access Seeker and the Access Provider will be responsible for the installation of its own equipment on the revised or extended Mast once completed.

Unless the Access Seeker and the Access Provider otherwise agree, all the equipment installed on an existing Mast must be transferred, in accordance with the reasonable directions of the Access Provider, to the revised or extended Mast in a manner that:

to the extent reasonably practicable, avoids; or if unavoidable, to the extent reasonably practicable, minimises;

any outage in transferring the equipment to the revised or extended Mast. To minimise the impact of any outage, the Access Seeker and the Access Provider must schedule the transference of the equipment at a time when, in the reasonable opinion of the Access Provider, that equipment is carrying the least traffic but also at a time that is reasonably practical to do that work.

In relation to the construction of the revised or extended Mast, the provisions of section 19 of the Mobile Co-location Operations Manual shall apply.

Once the location of the Access Provider Equipment upon the revised or extended Mast has been determined, and any part of it is installed, the Access Seeker must not (except with the prior written consent of the Access Provider) require that it be relocated elsewhere upon the revised or extended Mast.

If either the Access Seeker or the Access Provider does not consider that the other has met its obligations under this section 10, then the Access Seeker and the Access Provider must engage in dispute resolution, as set out in section 39 of the Mobile Co-location General Terms.

Mast replacement

This section 11 applies only in circumstances where the construction of a replacement Mast is determined to be required to accommodate the Access Seeker's requirements for provision of the Mobile Co-location Service at any Relevant Facilities. The provisions of the Mobile Co-location Operations Manual set out the circumstances where the replacement Mast shall be determined to be required.

Property Rights

Where the Access Seeker is to construct a replacement Mast:

- the replacement Mast will be owned by the Access Provider;
- the Access Seeker Equipment will remain the property of the Access Seeker;
- and
- the original Mast which has been replaced will be owned by the Access Seeker.

Rights and Obligations

Unless the Access Seeker and the Access Provider otherwise agree:

the Access Seeker is responsible for designing and undertaking all the work necessary for the construction of the replacement Mast (Necessary Work), including obtaining any necessary consents or permits in accordance with clause 6.1.8, and the Access Seeker is responsible for ensuring that temporary sites are established where required by the Access Provider to ensure that any interruption to the services that the Access Provider provides to its Customers and End Users is to the extent reasonably practicable, avoided, or, if unavoidable, minimised; and

the Access Provider must promptly provide all cooperation that the Access Seeker reasonably requires in undertaking the Necessary Work; and the Access Seeker must bear the costs of designing and constructing the replacement Mast, including all the costs of obtaining appropriate statutory, regulatory or other consents, any costs associated with the provision of temporary sites, and all the Necessary Work and all things required by these Mobile Co-location Access Terms. The Access Seeker must bear the costs of the disposal of the original Mast which has been replaced.

In carrying out the Necessary Work, the Access Seeker must take all reasonable steps to ensure that all such work is carried out in accordance with the Project Plan, and must notify the Access Provider of any delays which it anticipates as soon as practicable after becoming aware that such delays will occur.

The Access Seeker shall be entitled to a reasonable share of any subsequent co-location rental revenues from other Access Seekers or alternatively a reasonable abatement of its own rental (Apportionment), calculated by the Access Provider by reference to:

- the Access Seeker's level of capital contribution towards the Necessary Work;
- and

the costs incurred by the Access Provider:

in administering the Apportionment; and in setting up the original Mast, including but not limited to site acquisition costs, the costs of obtaining appropriate statutory, regulatory or other consents, development, design and construction costs, legal costs and any other reasonable costs.
